HOME-COMING OF HAPPY WARRIOR

Out Of The Gloaming.

Bori Bunder says it is true that the Government of India have not pledged themselves to reduce poppy cultivation. They want all the opium for their supporters in the Assembly and Councils.

* * * *

It goes on to apportion the credit—a large part of it to the Government, the Legislatures getting their small share. Simla or Delhi is accustomed to the Lion's share and it would be "lese majeste" to refuse it now.

* * * *

Bori Bunder holds that the opium eaten by the people in India is quite "within the reasonable needs of the people, seeing the purposes for which they consume the drug." Quite: what's reasonable for Indians becomes unreasonable for others! The distinction must be kept.

* * * *

"Congress agitators would never have obtained such a big foothold in Kanara, but for the economic poverty of the District." Now that the Congress agitators have disappeared, the economic poverty of the district must have also disappeared. But it hasn't.

* * * *

Kanara has only 106 persons per square miles, says the same breed. But they are a happy lot, for there are the wild beasts and a primeval forest to keep them company, when they can manage to exist at all.

* * * *

Ancient Indian sages preferred forests rather than towns and cities, but they were a contemplative lot and thought only of themselves. The agriculturists in Kanara support, on the other hand, the largest salaried services in the world and have got to think of others.

* * * *

If all the world's people could do as well as the Indian ryot, there would be no problems to solve for our hard-worked politicians who live at Simla in the summer and Delhi in the winter, when they are not touring in luxurious railway saloons. Their thinking power must not be allowed to get impaired by lowering their salaries.

* * * *

The Nazi authorities in Dantzig have arrested journalists for complaining to the wrong persons about the suppression of their papers. Even Simla can learn something from Nazis. Haig never thought of putting that in his Ordinance.

* * * *

"Municipal elections in England are always treated as the barometer of feeling of the electorates in respect of parliamentary elections, when they come on" writes the "Sind Observer" learnedly. The British barometer shows foul weather for the British Cabinet just now.

* * * *

The mercury has gone down at Fulham, and all the signs of a storm if not a tempest are on the horizon. The Cabinet is preparing to face the coming catastrophe and life belts are being thrown out by MacDonald, Simon and Company.

* * * *

Simon, of course, is ready as he has jettisoned all the dangerous cargo with which he started on his political voyage as a Liberal. He has sought safety in the Conservative haven of peace.

* * * *

But the storm has yet to come and the Government ship might be driven out to sea in face of the tempest. In the meantime Winston has already trained his guns on the good ship "National Fudge" and either it will founder or sink by gun fire.

* * * *

Sir R. K. Shanmukham Chetty having finished with Madras has now invaded the N. W. Frontier Province in full state and is being shown to the Tribes as the eighth wonder of Madras as a quickchange artist. He was taken to the Afridi Villages and it is stated that they gave him a "warm welcome."

* * * *

We hope nothing has happened to Speaker Chetty owing to the warmth of the welcome, for the Afridis are hefty fighters. It is a pity that the whole thing was not rounded off with an exhibition of bombing.

* * * *

If that had been done, the Assembly would have had first hand knowledge of these operations, the President being in a better position to deal with points of order raised by the Treasury Benches when inconvenient questions are asked.

Mussolini Talks Matters With General Goering At Rome

ROME, Nov. 7.

A move to bring Germany back into Geneva fold was made this morning when Sgr. Mussolini and General Goering held an unusually long conversation marked by cordiality.

A Communique was subsequently issued couched in prosaic terms but there seems to be no doubt that Ill Duce exerted an influence in favour of resumption of Disarmament and other conversations with Powers.

Both the Ministers probably agreed on the inadvisability of the Disarmament Conference drawing up a convention in the absence of Germany.—Reuter.

New Loan Will Be Oversubscribed

Terms Are Based On Quotations Of Existing Securities

(From Our Commercial Correspondent)

The announcement of £10,000,000 New Sterling loan at 3½ per cent at the rate of £97 by the Secretary of State is in full accord with the anticipation of the "Chronicle".

This issue is purely for the redemption of 1933-34 bonds.

The terms of the new sterling are based on the present quotations of the existing loans. There are no chances of any important change in the values of rupee loans except a temporary improvement of eight annas.

RUPEE LOANS AT DISCOUNT.

At present, rupee loans are quoted in India at a discount of 4 per cent, as compared with Indian sterling loans in London.

3-1|2 per cent rupee paper was quoted on Tuesday in Bombay at Rs. 83-7-0 against £86-1|2 in London on Monday.

SHOWS NORMAL DIFFERENCE.

3-1|2 per cent 1947-50 rupee loan is quoted at Rs. 93, though the issue price of £97 of the new sterling loan which is of a comparatively long period shows the normal difference of £4.

WILL BE OVERSUBSCRIBED.

The new loan will be oversubscribed, and the list will be closed soon after the opening.

TERMS OF NEW STERLING LOAN

NEW DELHI, Nov. 7.

The following press communique has been issued:—

The Secretary of State for India is issuing to-day the prospectus of a Sterling Loan of £10,000,000 in the form of 1954|59 Stock. The issue price is 97 per cent. The Stock will bear interest at the rate of 3-1|2 per cent per annum. If not previously redeemed, the Stock will be repaid at par on the 15th December, 1959, but the Secretary of State reserves the right, on giving three calendar months' notice in the London Gazette, to redeem the Stock in whole or in part by drawings or otherwise at par on, or on any half-yearly interest date after, the 15th December 1954. The subscription list will be opened and closed on Thursday, 9th November 1933.

SUBSCRIPTION FACILITIES

Subscriptions to this loan will be received in India at the offices of the Imperial Bank of India at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, Rangoon and Karachi. Applicants in India may also arrange with a remitting bank to send a telegraphic transfer in favour of the Imperial Bank of India's London Office and submit a certificate by the remitting bank that this has been done together with their applications to the Imperial Bank of India. APPLICATION FOR REDUCTION OF BAIL BONDS

"Times Of India" Cashier Ordered To Be Enlarged On Rs. 10,000 And Sureties Of Like Amount

Mangesh B. Palekar, a cashier in the "Times of India" who was arrested on September 21 on a charge of criminal breach of trust in respect of Rs. 73,000 and falsification of accounts was placed on a charge sheet before the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Bombay, on Tuesday morning.

Counsel for the defence said that he had come to know that the amount involved had now been reduced to only Rs. 23,000. He therefore thought the Court would be justified in considering favourably his application for reduction of the bail amount.

The father of the accused, he continued, who possessed landed property in the Karwar District was prepared to stand surety to the extent of Rs. 5,000, and he submitted that the bail amount be reduced to this sum.

APPLICATION OPPOSED.

Mr. Mankar, the Police Prosecutor, said he had not scrutinised the papers in the case and after objecting to the bail application, applied for an adjournment.

The Magistrate ordered the accused to be enlarged on bail of Rs. 10,000 and two sureties in like amount.

The case was then adjourned to November 21.

GRINDING DOWN WORKERS

Hawkers Urged To Put Up United Front

A meeting of the Bombay Hawkers' Union was held at Tambakanta, on Saturday evening when Miss Maniben Kara presided.

Sjt. Mahomed Ebrahim said that the cause of the hawkers and that of the tenants was one, inasmuch as if the rents were reduced to the extent of 40 per cent., there was not the slightest doubt that those hawkers, who had to hawk on the road and subject themselves to the harassment of the Municipal Encroachment Department lorries as well as the police, would take up tenements and open out shops at rents they could afford to pay.

Dr. M.R. Shetty said that a system of grinding down all workers was in progress and those who tried to check that system were considered as "dangerous" persons by the interested parties who had for their sole aim and object the exploitation of the workers.

Sjt. Bukharey exhorted the hawkers of Bombay to muster strong under the banner of the Union. That was the only way by which they could make themselves heard to all the authorities.

Sjts. Pannalal, Allarakhia, Ganl, and A.N. Shetty then addressed the gathering.

DEAR PATRONS

"..... the best is yet to be!"

Soon there is coming to Bombay the fine actor who recreated on the stage the beloved Poet, whose words begin this note. In short, BRIAN AHERNE, who played ROBERT BROWNING to KATHERINE CORNELL'S ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING in "The Barretts of Winnpole Street."

Mr. AHERNE is making his talking picture debut as leading man for

MARLENE DIETRICH in "THE SONG OF SONGS," which incidentally, has especial interest for you because it is from the great novel of the same name by Hermann Leedermann.

BRIAN AHERNE, like LESLIE HOWARD, is a handsome English actor of great charm and distinction. HE and MARLENE DIETRICH make a fascinating love team as the Principal Characters of "THE SONG OF SONGS." The actor who portrayed the author of the exquisite love poems now makes vivid for you the love BROWNING wrote about. There is a treat in store for you when you see "THE SONG OF SONGS."

UNIFICATION OF CRICKET IN NORTHERN INDIA

Maharaja Of Patiala Stresses Need For Removal Of Difficulties

LAHORE, Nov. 7.

An appeal for the unification of cricket in Northern India and the removal of all tendencies to split up was made by the speakers at the dinner given in honour of the M.C.C. tourists at the Nedous Hotel on Monday night, when over sixty people were present including the Maharajah of Patiala, the Yuvraj of Patiala, Sir Sikandar Hayat Khan, Sir Ferozkhan Noon, Sir Abdul Qadir and Sir Diya Kishan Kaul.

The Maharajah of Patiala said it was no reflection on the standard of cricket in Northern India that it had not reached the height which could have enabled them to put up a stand against the M.C.C. Much experience had been gained by the Test Team which went to England, and Northern India had learnt much from the M.C.C. present visit. His Highness hoped by the time the next English team came to India those lessons would have been complete. He pointed out that the Northern India Cricket Association did not represent the whole of Northern India.

The M.C.C. had yet to meet Southern Punjab and Patiala.

NEED FOR SPIN BOWLERS

His Highness referred to the value of and the need for spin bowling, and hoped that the practical demonstration of its usefulness would promote its development in the Punjab, and they would before long produce their Marriot or their Verity. He mentioned that in the colleges and other nurseries of cricket here, slow splin bowling was subjected to ridicule with the result that a natural slow spin bowler developed into a very indifferent medium fast bowler.

Appealing for the unification of cricket in Northern India, His Highness expressed the hope that more unity and a more representative side would probably being better result.

JARDINE'S ADVICE

Mr. Jardine spoke of His Highness as an honoured member of the Marylebone Cricket Club. He said that there was no doubt whatever of his ability as a cricketer. Referring to Indian cricket Mr. Jardine said India showed signs of setting a high standard in the game, and if ever she took the lead he hoped she wouldn't forget what the M.C.C. had done for the game. With regard to the unification of cricket in Northern India Mr. Jardine felt he could not do better than quote the old Persian proverb: "Keep your tents separate but your hearts united." This he said would overcome the difficulties of local jealousies. Even in England there was a tendency to split up, but it was obvious that the Punjab meant to go on inspite of the desire to champion local causes. He asked the Indian teams not to be disheartened by their defeats as in cricket all had to take their knocks.

Adverting to slow bowling Mr. Jardine declared that India had not so far seen the slowest bowler of them. That was himself but he doubted if they would ever see him as such beyond the nets. A.P.

501 is scientifically manufactured from refined vegetable oils. It lathers easily, washes most efficiently, and contains no harmful chemicals.
501 contains little moisture. That is why it is firm and solid, and lasts longer than ordinary soaps which often contain as much as 50–60 per cent. of water to make the cake seem big and heavy.
501 gives a rich, cleansing lather which loosens dirt quickly, without hard rubbing—and it's rubbing which wastes soap, tires you needlessly and wears out fabrics.

THERE NEED BE NO HASTE ABOUT CREMATION

Patel's Body Can Be Preserved For Years, Says Bose

Mr. Subhas C. Bose has sent, from Geneva, the following letter, dated 28th October 1933, to Mr. Maganlal Desai:—

"My dear Mr. Desai,—On the morning of the 25th Oct. Mr. Gordhanbhai and I left Glaud for Marseilles with the mortal remains of Vithalbhai in a special automobile. We arrived at Marseilles the same day in the evening—the 26th Oct.—the necessary formalities were completed and in the afternoon, the coffin was put on board.

We are thankful to Dr. Dutt of London, for making the necessary arrangements with the P. and O. Company, for conveying the body to India to the P. and O. Company and for giving the necessary facilities. I am sorry to say that the Lloyd Trlestino Company did not treat us well on this occasion. But of this, I shall write later.

TRIBUTES TO NURSES.

I returned from Marseilles, last night, with a sad and heavy heart. I am not going back to the Sanatorium at Glaud just now, but shall stay at Geneva for some days, and then settle my future plans. We are grateful to the doctors and nurses at the Sanatorium at Glaud for all that they did to try to save Vithalbhai's life. In particular, no words can adequately describe the devotion with which Sister Maria and Sister Herta nursed him, by day and by night.

OPEN COFFIN CAREFULLY.

Vithalbhai's mortal remains have been packed very carefully, and the opening has to be done with extreme care and caution, so that the body may not be disturbed in any way. First of all, the outer box has to be opened. Then you will find the coffin. On the lid of the coffin, the name, designation, etc., of Vithalbhai have been engraved in brass. The lid of the coffin has to be opened carefully with the help of a wrench, screw-driver and other instruments.

When the lid of the coffin is opened in the way, you will find a lead box hermetically sealed. This lead box is to be cut open very very carefully. When the lid of this lead box is taken out, you will find the body. We did not put any flowers inside the coffin because they would dry up. You will find the body wrapped up in a white Kashmiri shawl with a copy of the Bhagavad-Gita on top.

NO NEED FOR EARLY CREMATION.

The body has been properly embalmed, and the medical experts who supervised the embalming say that it can be preserved for years. In these circumstances, there need not be any haste about the cremation. If friends so desire, they can put the body in a public place for a few days in order to give the public an opportunity of having a last look and of placing wreaths, etc. We did the same with the body of Jatin Das in 1929.

DYING WISH.

Vithalbhai's dying wish was that his body be cremated on the Chowpatty Sands, alongside the place where the late Lokamanya Tilak's body was cremated. In order to fulfil his dying wish, I hope that friends will lose no time in approaching the proper authorities for getting the necessary permission for the cremation ceremony on the Chowpatty Sands.

Mr. Gordhanbhai Patel will be arriving at Bombay with the body, by S. S. "Narkunda" on or about the 9th November. The exact date and time of arrival there, you will be able to find out from the Bombay office of the P. and O. Company.

DEEPENED HIS RESPECT.

I have no doubt that proper arrangements will be made at Bombay for a reception worthy of the occasion. Vithalbhai's attitude in the presence of death has deepened my respect for his character to an indescribable extent. You know that before he passed away, he conveyed his blessing to his countrymen and to all friends of India all over the world, and he prayed for the early attainment of India's freedom.

Yours very sincerely,
(Sd.) Subhas C. Bose.

NOT SO QUIET AT KASHGAR!

Tungan And Turki Forces Rattle Their Sabres Again

NEW DELHI, Nov. 6.

The following communique has been issued:—

"According to latest news from Kashgar dated October 26 there has been further deterioration in the local situation and fighting occurred between the Tungan and Turki forces resulting in some casualties, among the former.

Peace negotiations between Khoja Niaz Haji's delegates and Machan Tsang, the Tungan leader, having failed the former left Kashgar on October 21 while Usman, Khirgiz leader, decamped to hills on October 23 together with most of Khirgiz troops and customs receipts for the last month.

URGENT CALL.

An urgent call from Khoja Niaz Haji who is now reported to be at Aksu for further reinforcements has resulted in the departure of practically entire garrison of Kashgar. This tends to confirm the report that Khoja Niaz continues to retreat before a large Tungan and Chinese force advancing to west along the East Road.

The local Kashgar populace is much dissipirited and there have been many departures.

PARLIAMENT REASSEMBLES

Full Debate On Disarmament And Breakdown Of Debt Negotiations

FIRST OCCASION

Keen Interest In Political Circles Due To Public Suggestion Of National Combine

LONDON, Nov. 7.

Full debate on the Disarmament Conference and a statement by Mr. Neville Chamberlain on the breakdown of war debt negotiations in the United States take place, when Parliament reassembles to-day.

Mr. Chamberlain's statement on the subject will be followed by the issue of a White Paper, in connection with the recent exchange of views between the two Governments.

Meanwhile speeches of Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Baldwin and Sir J. Simon regarding the national combination of parties has aroused keen interest in political circles.

This is the first occasion on which any party leader of the National Government has publicly suggested the National political combination should maintain their co-operation at the next General Election. This is generally interpreted to mean that while each party will continue to retain its individuality, Government intends to fight the next election as a National Government.—Reuter's Special.

NO TINKERING WITH TERMINAL TAX LEVY

Mohanlal Desai, New Chairman Of Improvements Committee Warns Govt. Against Playing With Corporation Proposal

Mr. Mohanlal M. Desai, the Nationalist member of the Bombay Municipal Corporation was unanimously elected Chairman of the Improvements Committee for the remaining period of 1933-34 on Tuesday. Mr. Desai after taking the chair thanked his colleagues for unanimously electing him to the chair and said:

"In the year 1927-28 as the Chairman of the then Law, Procedure and Elections Committee of the Corporation, it had fallen to my lot to have a share in the preparation of the first representation which was finally sent to the Government, urging upon them the necessity for the dissolution of the Trust. The demand then made has been fulfilled to-day, and I find that it is a proud privilege bestowed upon me to be the Chairman of the first Committee.

QUESTION OF TRANFER.

After giving the origin and growth of the Improvement Trust, its budgetary ups and downs Mr. Desai said:

"It was sometime after the year 1922, when the finances of the Trust began to be on the wrong side, that the late Dr. Vigas hammered the question of the Trust transfer in season and out of season in the Corporation. The Corporation insisted upon the Government the desirability of such a transfer, but instead of agreeing to such a course, the Government passed the Trust Amendment Act in the year 1925, thereby giving a larger share to the Corporation in the administration of the Trust affairs. But the Trust retained its separate entity with the result that duplication of similar work continued for a longer period, entailing heavy costs and heavy deficits.

"It was the most opportune moment for the dissolution of the Trust in or about the year 1925. The Municipal Budget was then fairly stable, it had a fairly decent surplus cash balance, and the finances of the Trust were just beginning to be on the wrong side. If the amalgamation had taken place at that time, the predicament in which we find ourselves to-day would not have arisen.

"Under these circumstances, the problems which immediately face us are according to me five. Either the Corporation, the Improvements Committee, or the Commissioner will have to solve them. And I hope that with good-will and mutual understanding, it will be possible to do so. These five problems are:—

(1) The Compulsory addition in the General Tax by one per cent.
(2) The Terminal Tax,
(3) Disposal of the Trust lands,
(4) Collection of rents from Trust Properties and
(5) The Service Staff.

I will just briefly deal with each one of them and finish my speech.

Unfortunately, there have been deficits in the Municipal Budget for the last nearly seven years, our surplus cash balance is gradually being wiped off and even the proposals of the Commissioners during the recent years for even a nominal increase in either the General Tax or the Water Tax have been turned down, as such an addition was likely to be a heavy burden at a time when unemployment, depression of trade, and financial stringency stares in the face. The Corporation could use its discretion for bringing about its equilibrium, but when the question of additional one per cent. on the Trust Transfer has been agreed upon, the imposition is inevitable in the next year.

TERMINAL TAX LEVY.

The Government had asked us to find out a new source of revenue to meet the Trust deficits, and the Corporation in following the example of Calcutta, requested the Government to levy a terminal tax by rail or sea to recoup the partial deficit. The Government of Bombay have endorsed our proposals and they are, I understand at present placed for final disposal before the Government of India. It should at the same time be remembered that His Excellency the Governor recently in the course of his reply to the Bandra Municipality had given an assurance that the claims for exemption from the Terminal Tax by the Bombay Suburbs would be taken into consideration at the time of the final disposal of this question. If the Tax is either not imposed in toto or is partially reduced, I am afraid it will be a matter of serious consideration how to secure nearly seven lakhs of rupees expected to be recovered from this source.

RETRENCHMENT

One of the objects of the Amalgamation is retrenchment in the top heavy expenses in the cost of management. While we have to face huge deficits and find out the best way for recoupment, if we ignore this material factor of retrenchment, I am afraid that we will be failing in our duty to the ratepayers. In the year 1930-31, the cost of management etc. came to Rs. 9,38,169, the same was reduced gradually to Rs. 6,95,463 in the following three years, and we have recently learnt about the proposal of the Commissioner to still curtail the expenses by nearly 25 per cent. We are all anxious to retain the services of the hard working loyal staff of the Trust to the best of our ability, but mere grounds of sentiment ought not to come in our way if we have to set our house in order. Efficiency, Economy, and Expediency should be the only grounds of consideration in retaining or rejecting the members of the staff of the now defunct Improvement Trust.

ARMOURY RAID APPEALS

Tarkeshwar's Counsel Disputes Evidence

CALCUTTA, Nov. 7

When the hearing of appeals in connection with Supplementary Armoury Raid Trial was resumed at the High Court to-day, Mr. S. K. Basu for Tarakeshwar Dastidar said that his client was found by the Tribunal not to be a participant in the raid of 1930 in any of the latter overt Acts, but had been convicted of conspiracy and waging war and sentenced to death because of the incident at Gohira on 19th May where he and Kalapana Dutt were arrested.

According to the prosecution Tarakeshwar was made the new leader of the party after Surya Sens arrest and from Gohira he was attempting to rescue Sen from Jail. He said it was merely for the purpose of raising Dastidar to an important conspirator that it was said that the mantle of Sen had fallen on him.

The evidence showed that he was present at Chittagong only up to 20th March 1930 and he was not a suspect but an associate of suspects.

The suggestion that his home at Chittagong was made headquarters of the Revolutionary party was not borne out by evidence at the original trial, and if he was really such a dangerous man, it was significant that his house was not searched immediately after the Armoury raid.

It had been said that a revolver stolen from the Armoury was recovered at Gohira, but that was not enough evidence to conclude that Dastidar was a member of this conspiracy in which Basu contended ,his client took no part.—A. P.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1933

NOT THE PEOPLE'S PACT

After six weeks of almost continuous negotiations with the Japanese trade delegation it is some relief to be told that a settlement is nearly in sight. Possessing all the agents of production in the cotton trade and also a vast home market, India could easily have dictated terms both to Japan and Lancashire and closed the negotiations in a week, if her Government really represented the people and placed their interests first and foremost. But as things are, British interests come in and it is not easy even for them to conclude a tripartite settlement soon on that basis. To make it easy to give concessions to Britain and for other reasons the Government must give fair concessions to Japan, while providing for substantial preference to Britain. To safeguard Indian interests, subject to these conditions is necessarily a hard task and it is more than doubtful if the final settlement will really protect those interests.

JAPAN GETS WISE

Another reason for the undue prolongation of the trade talks was Japan's fear of discrimination against herself or its equivalent in the shape of undue preference to Britain. When given a vague general assurance on this point, Japan readily accepted the principle of linking the quota of her piece-goods with that of Indian cotton. Only two days before the Lancashire delegation sailed back to England, it was believed that a settlement with Japan was nearly complete. Then came the report of the secret pact between that delegation and the Bombay millowners. This created a serious difficulty in the Indo-Japanese negotiations.

The Japanese delegation, taken aback at the Bombay millowners' concession of further preference to Britain for no return concession naturally feared that the pact might operate virtually as discrimination against them. They suddenly became overcautious and distrustful in fixing the quotas of Japanese piecegoods with Indian cotton. It almost appeared as if the negotiations would come to an abrupt end. It is therefore somewhat reassuring to learn that a settlement is again in sight. Probably Japan has realised that a pact with the Bombay millowners is not the same as a pact with India or has made whatever bargain was possible in the adverse circumstances.

DOUBTFUL BARGAIN

The details of the expected settlement are not yet available. But it seems very probable that Lancashire has in various ways prevented India from getting better terms from Japan. Our Delhi Correspondent must have had good reason to state:

> There is a general impression here that the London authorities have had a full say in the matter and that the classification of goods for the purpose of piece-goods quota, for instance, was fixed as much in the interest of Lancashire as in the interest of the Indian mill industry. In fact, if we had not been so rigid about this in co-operation with London, we might have got still better terms for cotton growers. But placed as the Indian Government is, it has struck the only bargain it could.

TAKE UP THE CHALLENGE

Much depends upon the terms that will be finally given to Lancashire by the Government. If they are as objectionable as those offered by the obliging Bombay millowners, it will be for the people to take up the challenge and refuse any protection to Lancashire against themselves. Let it be remembered that the people are no party to the Bombay pact. They have rather denounced it as a betrayal of their interests. The only pact or policy they are pledged to is that of self-sufficiency in respect of her cloth requirements. Till that object is gained and till Indian mills and handspinners consume all the cotton grown in India, if a certain measure of tolerance to foreign textiles is found expedient it must be in a reasonable proportion to the exchange of Indian cotton.

MacDonald's Despairing Move

Sir John Simon's speech makes it evident that a new party is in process of formation, and perhaps, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald hopes to continue to be the head of the Government for some years to come. The present Parliament has still three more years to run, and, no doubt, all are anxious to secure another lease of life. It is easy enough to understand why there is a combination between Mr. MacDonald, Sir John Simon and Mr. Baldwin. The Premier has no political following worth the name, as only 13 members belong to his political persuasion. Sir John Simon has behind him 35 votes, and Mr. Baldwin can carry half the Tories with him.

We do not know to what threat of dictatorship Sir John Simon referred. No doubt, there are a number of Fascist parties in Great Britain functioning in their own small way. But their number seems to be insignificant and their influence is small. Sir Oswald Mosley has got many rivals for his place as the leader of the British Fascists, though he may be in a financial position to maintain a large number of these roughs whom he takes with him to public meetings to silence the arguments of his opponents. Sir Oswald has so far made no effort to usurp the dictatorship of Great Britain, and even if he does it, we do not believe he has much chance of success.

The danger to the Government is more likely to come from the Tories themselves, a large number of whom are quite dissatisfied with the leadership of Mr. Baldwin, particularly his Indian policy. The White Paper policy has neither pleased Indians nor his own followers, and we do not see any sense in pursuing it any further. The Conservative Party has only postponed its decision on the White Paper, until the final report of the Joint Parliamentary Committee is out. Mr. Winston Churchill has a large following, at least so far as his Indian policy is concerned, and there can be little doubt that, it is against him and Lord Lloyd that this political trio is forming a new combination. No wonder then, if the White Paper policy continues to be diluted with real Toryism as time goes on.

We agree with Sir John when he says that there is very little difference between the Liberals and Tories now, and that "the old dividing controversies were dead." That does not mean that the Tories have become liberalised; it only means that the Liberals and the National-Labourites have surrendered themselves wholly to the exigencies of Time and accepted the yoke of Toryism. Sir John himself has never attached much importance to any political principles and we do not believe he has any now, as he has been surrendering them one after another for the last few years. It may not be possible to bring back Free Trade all at once, but it is yet to be seen if the present fiscal policy has benefited any one very much.

Both Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Baldwin, as well as Sir John Simon, must have seen the writing on the wall and realised that the National Government is bound to break up. The present move is being engineered in the hope of salving the MacDonald combine when the inevitable break comes. But there is little doubt that they will all be swept away at the next election.

Enemies Of Unity

It is rather difficult to follow the propaganda carried on by Bhai Permanand in the name of the Hindu Mahasabha. If he wants to unify the Hindus, it is not necessary to do it by calling other communities' names; that work can proceed independently. There is little doubt that Hindus require to be unified as soon as possible, but that cannot be done by the methods now followed by the Mahasabha. Hindus have every right to live in India as a great community along with other communities, who have also made their homes in this country. The ultimate aims of every community are one and the same, for they all want freedom for themselves and their country. There may be differences of opinion as to the ways and means of attaining that ideal, but the methods which the Hindu Mahasabhaites have now made their own are not the best ones for attaining political freedom.

We do not know why the stronger community should kill the weaker ones. In India even today, there are some very weak communities numerically, and they have existed for over a thousand years without any interference from the majority community. Why should they kill one another now all of a sudden? Does Bhai Permanand think that the emergence of the Hindu Mahasabha has turned the heads of every one in India, and that they all want to kill each other for nothing. Then he says again that the Congress ideal of Hindu-Muslim unity was "an imaginary scheme." What do the Hindu Mahasabhaites want then as an alternative? Do they want the two communities to fight out the issue, kill each other and then continue the process until the strongest community alone is left behind as the victor? It may not be possible for us to achieve the desired unity just now, but there can be no alternative to it.

We deny that the Hindus and Muslims have lived as two separate communities since the time the latter set their feet on the Indian soil. There were wars of conquest, dynastic wars, and other political disturbances, but there were no religious wars as such. Both Hindus and Muslims fought with each other, either for or against a Hindu or a Muslim king and even the Great Shivaji had many faithful Muslim soldiers in his army, as Aurangzeb also had his Hindus. Most of the Muslim kings had Hindu generals and soldiers, and even prime ministers. We have no wish to go into all these details except to point out that Hindus and Muslims have lived with each other in a friendly spirit for many centuries, and they will do it again in favourable circumstances. They are doing it even now, though the communalist politicians on both sides are doing their best to exploit them for their own purposes. We sincerely hope that, Bhai Permanand will see the error of his ways, and instead of further dividing the two communities use his great abilities to bring them together.

Faithful Recorder

The Assembly meets soon. But we do believe that the present Assembly cannot be trusted with so important a measure as the Reserve Bank Bill. It is not strong or competent enough for this purpose. It has outlived its term and outgrown its utility. It is time to dissolve it, and have a fresh election. In our opinion, there is little substantial difference between an ordinance and a measure passed by the present Assembly.—"Forward."

Conflict Of Interests

The unfortunate part of the matter is that the Government of India's interests, as at present constituted, are sometimes, at variance with national interests. For instance, every one, including Sir George Schuster, will admit that devaluation of the Rupee would give India as a whole, a great benefit, but it will ruin the finances of the Government of India.

However, the problem is one that must be seriously studied. Sir Basil Blackett was able to convince the agriculturist that the cry for 1s. 4d. came only from the industrialists. To-day the agriculturist is even more vehement in his attack on the ratio than the Industrialist.—"Roy's Weekly."

For Joint Exploitation

Leaving aside therefore, as irrelevant for the time being, the issue whether acceptance or rejection of the new constitution should be the political watchword of nationalist India, it is worth while noting, the trend of opinion hardening even amongst the most confirmed followers of the Liberal school of thought that, under cover of granting a large measure of self-government to India, a deliberate attempt is being made to check the progress of India towards real democratic freedom. The net result is that immediately the new constitution is inaugurated, we will have to begin again that struggle for democratic freedom.

RIVAL ADDRESSES

Who Represents East Indian Catholics?

From Terence Nunes.

In the "Chronicle" of yesterday's date, it was announced that the Bombay East Indian Association has appointed a special committee consisting of A. D. A. D'Mnote M.D., J.P., Mr. Leo Rodrigues, B.A. LL.B., J.P., Mr. J. W. Gomes Bar-at-Law, Dr. A. A. Dias, Prizeman-Scholar, and others for the purpose of organizing a farewell address to Sir Frederick Sykes and a welcome address to Lord Brabourne, the Governor designate. Whatever the merits of this move may be, no one can dispute for a moment the legality and the authority of the Bombay East Indian Association to speak and act on behalf of the community.

REPRESENTATIVE ASSOCIATION

It is an indisputable fact that there is not in the community a body which is more representative of the people than the Bombay East Indian Association, and such being the case, I am surprised to find in the "Times of India" of the same date a para stating that a "public meeting of the East Indian Catholics was held 'in Bandra' when it was resolved to present an address on behalf of the community to the outgoing and incoming governors." When the Bombay East Indian Association which is "the only representative body of the people," and under the banner of which East Indians have been dauntlessly fighting from time immemorial for their rights and privileges is already considering to present addresses to the outgoing and incoming governors, I cannot find any sense in the conduct of that section of the people which is responsible for the Bandra Meeting.

FIFTY IN A LAC.

Prior to my entering into a detailed discussion on the matter, which is of vital importance to the community, I would like to know how many members out of one lac East Indian Catholics were present at this meeting? Salsette and Bassein are two strong citadels of East Indian Catholics. Will the conveners tell us how many East Indian Catholics were present at the meeting from these districts? The report, unfortunately, is mum on these vital points. Certainly a small section of East Indians, and that too, in all probability belonging to a particular party, cannot by any stretch of imagination wield the destiny of one lac of people.

Unless the authors of this meeting co-operate with the B. E. I. Association, which has all along been functioning on behalf of the people on all such occasions as this, it is doubtful whether H. E. the Governor will condescend to accept any address at all on be-

Frankly Speaking

OUR FOOLISH CORPORATORS

Nothing could prevent the Bombay Municipal Corporation from voting an address to the in-coming Governor, so long as the constitution of that body remains as it is now.

Until he was appointed nobody in Bombay knew anything about Lord Brabourne, but the Corporation have suddenly invested him with multifarious virtues, of which even he would be surprised to hear.

The Municipal Commissioner indulged in finessing when he said that they could with justification say that the White Paper reforms were "important," as long as they did not commit themselves to a definite opinion by saying that they were beneficial to the country!

If the coming reforms are not going to be beneficial to the country they cannot be "important" to the country, and they may as well not come at all.

The address itself refers to politics and we agree with the objection raised by one member that no reference to politics should have been made, in accordance with Government wishes.

But since they are the right kind of politics for Government it does not much matter.

GOVERNMENT AND DEWAS

The terms of the letter written to the Maharajah of Dewas (senior) are explicit. The Agent to the Governor-General demands that he return to Dewas before the 10th.

The Maharajah, apparently, has no such intention. He is said to be "ill" at Pondicherry and a doctor's certificate has no doubt been produced to that effect.

The Government of India have blinked at the unfortunate state of things in Dewas all these years, although the Indian papers were full of the sufferings of the agriculturists owing to the exactions of the ruler.

As the letter now states, the treasury is empty and the salaries of the officials are in arrears. That is not a new phenomenon in Indian States.

It is, however, very touching that the Government of India should at this late hour take such sudden interest in the people of Dewas. Was their attention drawn to the State and its affairs by another ruler who has had a long existing family quarrel with Dewas Senior?

MUSSOLINI AND GOERING

The renewed friendship between Mussolini and Goering and the latter's sudden flying visit to Rome to see the Italian dictator have some deeper meaning than has been announced.

Italy and Germany are drawing nearer each other since the misunderstanding between France and Italy after the war. The sore is still festering, though we doubt whether it is possible to have any permanent friendship between Italy and Germany.

Hitler's demand that other countries should also disarm in accordance with the Versailles Treaty is logical, but as long as Germany continues to be in her present war-like mood, it would be sheer madness for her neighbours to disarm themselves.

As a result of Germany's attitude, instead of disarmament we see most of the nations increasing their armaments. It is to be regretted, but they cannot help it themselves, for they have to defend themselves against German depredations.

TRIUMPH OF REACTION

Reaction against prohibition in America is in full swing under a Government notoriously hostile to the cause.

State after State has been voting against the Eighteenth Amendment that inaugurated prohibition all over the country. Six States were to have voted on Tuesday and it is expected that four of them have voted "wet."

Only three States more will then have to vote to complete the number of 36 votes necessary for the repeal of the Amendment. It may be expected, as things are, that prohibition will be no more in America in about a month and the next Christmas will mark the triumph of reaction.

Some of the States, however, will continue to be dry, though their number is not certain now. For the repeal of the Amendment will not affect the States' right of local option.

If these States combine and renew their old educative propaganda all over the country, it may not be long before Americans realise that prohibition is far from being a lost cause

VINDICTIVENESS

In every province a large number of civil resisters, who were classed as B class prisoners in 1930 have been given C class treatment in the present Ordinance regime, though their status has remained the same and the jail rules too are the same as before

When a question was put on the subject in the Madras Legislative Council on Monday, the Government evasively replied that, while convicts were placed in C class by the convicting Magistrates, the Government had since transferred them to B class. That is no assurance that civil disobedience prisoners are not given now a lower class than before.

Whatever may be the present state of things in Madras, it is notorious that in Bombay a large majority of those who were put in the B class before are now deliberately given C class and that the treatment of prisoners in general is unnecessarily harsh.

And things may continue to be so unless the people effectively protest, both in the Councils and outside, against the inhuman conditions in jail.

FAREWELL PATEL!

From "Rajasthani".

On Thursday next we shall have the last mortal remains of our departed Patel on our heads and shoulders, alas! not to be kept, not to be preserved but to be reduced into ashes immortal, by hands of the near and dear with tears of love and adoration in the eyes of millions all over the country.

Deathly blows, the unfortunate motherland has had, of course, many during the last few years, but the latest one—the untimely and sad demise of the bold and courageous Patel in lands far off from the soil of Holy Ganges and Mighty Himaliyas is terrible enough, much more terrible than even the horrible death of the C. D. movement and the ill-omened birth of the gruesome Individual Satyagrah.

Let India and Indians, therefore, irrespective of any caste and creed, with the best one of our English friends as the president of the Funeral Committee, pay our last homage to the departed soul—the Patel of India and England both, in manners appropriate and befitting to the solemn occasion. Let us also pray that we be henceforth guided by his high soul and indomitable courage in all our future struggles for the Freedom and we be exactly what the venerable Patel desired us to be at his death-bed and in his last moments of struggles with the Tyrant Death. Rajasthan received him once as the sole arbitrator for its political strifes and payeth its respect in terms following:—

> "Patel departed and venerable, > goeth thou, doth go in peace eternal.
> "Lovers of thine, though rent asunder, shalt meet thee but in Heaven."

Team For The Tests

From S. K.

A most timely warning has been sounded by "Not Out" in your issue of Tuesday and I hope that those concerned will give it their full consideration.

India has at last been given Test status and in order to keep it up it is essential that our teams should put up a good show in the Test matches. This cannot be done if players, who are naturally selected from all parts of India, and acclimatized to different climatic conditions, are selected almost at the last moment and put together to face a very strong English side, who form a perfect combination. How can our Test team be expected to give a good fight to the visitors if our fielders, bowlers and wicket-keeper do not get themselves accustomed to one another?

Another important point which "Not Out" has not failed to stress is the selection of the Test team. It is no use depending on past forms of players, and selectors should make it a point not to be guided by opinions of interested parties who flood the press with their ideas of "a perfect team". It is really deplorable that newspaper correspondents do not keep strictly to the reporting side of the matter and try to influence the selectors.

What Agriculturists Need

From "Pro Bono Publico."

His Excellency Sir Frederick Sykes, our retiring Governor, has evinced a commendable zeal in the welfare and well-being of agriculturists. In this connection, two considerations stare one in the face: the desirability (1) of reducing the enhanced taxation levied not very long ago on agricultural lands and (2) of introducing free and compulsory primary education in rural areas. To promote further the interests of the cultivators, at certain places of Collectorates, agricultural, high and industrial schools should be established.

I think the growing agricultural population cannot subsist on agriculture alone, that other avenues should be opened to them and improved knowledge of agriculture should be imparted to them. The other day, I read that the agriculturists of Bassein taluka, Thana zilla, have been hard hit by the betel vine being attacked by a pest and the staple industry menaced by ruin. While on this point, I am reminded of the congregation of Don Bosco among which there are experts, hailing from various parts of Europe and America, who have specialized in the Science of Agriculture and the practical application of the same but that they cannot operate outside the City and Island of Bombay without the permission and encouragement of the Ordinary of the Diocese, and without pecuniary help and free grant of land.

If Government be disposed to avail of their services, the Very Rev. A Tornguist S. C. Superior of the Salesians Don Bosco High School, Tardeo, Bombay, might be written to.

BANDRA ADDRESS FEVER

From "Welfare".

Allow me to say that the letters of your correspondents, "One who Knows" and "Bandrawalla" in your issue of the 3rd instant in regard to the convening of a so-called public meeting of the East Indian Catholic Community on the 5th idem are much appreciated for their good sense and pertinent observations and you are thanked for giving them publicity and doing service to the community.

It should be borne in mind that the Bombay East Indian Association was established in the year of the Golden Jubilee of our beloved Sovereign Victoria the Good and in commemoration thereof. Meetings of the community held thereafter in Bombay, Salsette and Bassein passed unanimous resolutions declaring the Association as the sole representative of the community.

The Managing Committee of the Association issued notices to its members, convening a Special Meeting on Monday the 6th instant to vote addresses to outgoing and incoming Governors. The notices reached the members on Saturday the 28th ultimo. The conveners of the so-called meeting then set to brew mischief. They held their so-called public meeting on Sunday last. The conveners gave out that the East Indian Catholic number 1,00,000 (lakh), but the total number that attended the meeting at the highest estimate was below fifty souls, including those who were attracted there by curiosity but not in sympathy with the conveners.

The proceedings, antics or mischiefs referred to recalls to one's mind the Fable of the mischievous boys, indulging in the pastime of throwing stones at the frogs in the pond.

Untenable Position

From F. D. Melton.

From various accounts appearing in the press I see that two addresses are going to be given to the outgoing and incoming Governors of Bombay by the Bombay East Indians. The first of these is being presented by those who, under the presidency of Prof. J. F. R. D'Almeida, convened a meeting at the Town Hall, Bandra, on Sunday, the 5th November 1933. The second one is to be given by the Bombay East Indian Association (the body that represents the East Indians of Bombay, Salsette and Bassein). From this it seems that there is a split in their ranks; otherwise there ought to be only one address presented by the community.

On such a public occasion when an undeniably loyal community like the East Indians—a community which has proved its worth and value in the past by raising a militia to defend British possessions against threatened French invasion—desires to express its appreciation of Sir Frederick Sykes able administration and present a valedictory address to Lord Brabourne, they ought to close up their ranks and be completely united so that they can raise an unanimous voice to the Government they have loved and served so faithfully.

I have, for the last five years, taken an intelligent interest in the community's affairs, and, as far as I know the body that really represents the East Indians is the Bombay East Indian Association. It is within recent memory that this body, on behalf of the whole community, gave an "at home" to Sir Patrick Kelly, our former popular Commissioner of Police. I would, therefore, appeal to the community to do the same now, and, if they must give the addresses to the Governors, it should be under the auspices of the Bombay East Indian Association, the body that represents them publicly. The two separate addresses contemplated will only show to the world the wide split that exists in their ranks.

Goans And Goan Union

From Argus.

A Socrates, alias A. L. Dias, writes in your issue of last Saturday a very unsocratic epistle, condemning in one magnificent sweep Catholic Religion, Catholic priests, Goan leaders, Portuguese Consul General, and perhaps even the British Government.

In this deluge of abuse and insinuations the only thing which floats, like Noah's Ark, is his Goan Union. According to this Bourbon it should have organized the address to the Bombay Governor. It is, indeed a very bright idea, but one already "rejected" by Government and the Goan Community alike. The present Goan Union does not represent even its own members, about 180 all told, in a community forty thousand strong.

HOARE QUOTES QUEEN'S PROCLAMATION AGAINST INDIA

Memorandum On Discrimination

Dominions May Discriminate, But Indians Cannot Retaliate!

LONDON, Nov. 7.

The general purpose of proposals in relation to discrimination (paragraphs 122 to 124 of the White Paper) was explained at yesterday's meeting of the Select Committee when Sir Samuel Hoare submitted a memorandum, which owing to some lack of clarity in the White Paper, set them out in greater precision. But there was no substantial change in the object of the White Paper proposals.

HOARE'S MEMORANDUM

The Memorandum explained that it was proposed that the Constitution Act should contain a general declaration that no British subject (Indian or otherwise) be disabled in British India from holding office or practising any profession, trade or calling only by reason of his religion, descent, caste, colour or place of birth.

DOMINIONS INCLUDED.

It was explained that this general declaration would apply to all British subjects, including those of Dominions and special provisions based on reciprocity would be inserted for the protection of British subjects domiciled in the United Kingdom, companies incorporated in the United Kingdom but trading in India and also companies incorporated in India.

The position with regard to reciprocal treatment of shipping was also clarified, while stipulations with regard bounties and subsidies were generally unchanged from Paragraph 124.

HOARE IN QUANDRY.

Explaining conditions with regard to subsidies, particularly the distinction between existing companies and those to be established in India after subsidies are introduced, Sir Samuel pointed out that the proposals were based on the report of the External Capital Committee.

Sir Austen Chamberlain inquired if it was possible to prescribe that all shareholders, directors and servants of the new company must be domiciled in India.

Sir S. Hoare replied: "As our proposals stand, there could be discrimination of that kind."

Miss Pickford suggested if the Subsidies Act specified that all directors must be Indians, that would be in itself discriminatory, and protection against discriminatory Legislation would operate.

CAN GOVERNOR INTERVENE?

Sir Samuel Hoare replied that if the Act were discriminatory, nothing would derogate from the power of the Governor-General and Governors to intervene in the field of special Responsibilities.

Marquis of Zetland asked if the Governor would intervene in the event of the Provincial Government accepting an Indian tender against obviously a more favourable British tender.

Sir Samuel Hoare expressed the opinion that he would, if it was a serious case and also in the event of tenders being restricted to Indians.

QUEEN'S PROCLAMATION

On the question of treatment of the Empire subjects resident elsewhere than in the United Kingdom, the memorandum suggested the possibility of India negotiating reciprocal agreements for special protection.

Chaudhry Zafrulla demurred to the grant of general protection when Indians did not admittedly enjoy the same rights in the Dominions.

Sir S. Hoare pointed out that it had been one of the principles of the Indian administration since the Proclamation of 1858. "We feel it will be a retrograde step to go back on it."

ZAFRULLA SPEAKS OUT.

Chaudhry Zafrulla asked: "Is it consistent with your policy that the British Indian should be ineligible for appointment in the Ceylon Civil Service, whereas a British subject of Ceylon is eligible for the Indian Civil Service."

Sir S. Hoare indicated that he wished to consider the point, but expressed the general opinion there should be an opportunity for the Government of India to make reciprocal agreements with Dominions. He pointed out that India had a strong lever in the power to refuse entry.

Chaudhry Zafrulla asked if Sir S. Hoare expected public opinion or the Legislature in India to view with equanimity the provision compelling them to give the Britisher from South Africa equal opportunities for carrying on trade or profession.

Sir S. Hoare again deprecated going back on the established policy

RIGHT OF RETALIATION.

Sir Harisingh Gour suggested that it would strengthen India's hand to give her right of retaliation.

Sir S. Hoare expressed the opinion that the proper way was to give India the power to withhold the right of entry.

Sir S. Hoare had not yet dealt with Fiscal convention and Tariff Autonomy.

He mentioned in this connection that he received a letter from Mr. Jayakar and Sir Phiroze Sethna asking for the elucidation of certain matters connected with the Fiscal Autonomy Convention as a result of his evidence on the third November.

It is understood the letter asks for a clarification of the position of the Autonomy Convention in relation to the Governor-General's power of veto.—Reuter.

WHY GOVERNMENT GOES TO MARKET

To Strengthen Sterling Reserves

(Special Cable)

LONDON, Nov. 7.

The following message was despatched from London before the announcement of the amount and rate of the new sterling loan:—

The amount and rate of the new Government of India issue has not yet been announced, but the "Times" City Notes expect that underwriting will begin today and the prospectus will be issued on the 8th November. It is not believed that more than one-third of the outstanding bonds are in the hands of the public, the balance having been bought for investment from the Government of India's own sterling funds.

The "Daily Telegraph" states the amount of maturing bonds could have been comfortably provided from India's very substantial sterling resources. This strong position led many marketers believe that the December repayment would be met without fresh borrowing.

The Paper expresses the opinion that the Government of India seizing the favourable opportunity for the purpose of borrowing partly because the present strength of the Rupee is entirely attributable to the abnormal gold exports, and partly because the Government desires that Sterling reserves of the proposed new Central Bank shall be very strong at the outset.

The "Financial Times" states although the rumours of the issue were previously extent, it was thought latterly the Government of India's resources here, strengthened through heavy gold shipments, would have sufficed to meet pending obligation.

This impression was strengthened by Sir George Schuster's remarks at the Assembly debate on September 11th on the Reserve Bank Bill.

half of the East Indian Community. Two addresses from two rival parties cannot be expressive of the unanimous sentiments and feelings of the people.

FANTASTIC.

The mover of the main resolution at the Bandra meeting, Mr. Jos Alex Dias, B.A. LL.B., J.P., when he was the Secretary of the Bombay East Indian Association, used to send greetings to all outgoing and incoming governors on behalf of the people in his capacity as the Secretary of the Bombay East Indian Association. He also, as the Secretary of the Association, used to organise several "loyalty demonstrations" on behalf of the East Indian community. To-day he is not the Secretary of the Association. It seems to us that the Association has lost its representativeness by his resignation. Such a conception is fantastic apart from its being ridiculous.

However, my appeal to the community is that it should rise to the occasion as one body with one soul, for these people who are creating a sort of confusion in the community must remember that their conduct is being watched by Goans and Non-Catholics. Should East Indian Catholics enact a politically protestant dra-

GOLD OPENS STEADY

Prices Weaken In Absence Of Buyers And Due To Bank Sales

(Special to the "Chronicle.")

BOMBAY, Nov. 7.

The New York market closed today owing to the election day.

Liverpool wheat opened steady at 54, 57 58-3|8 about half a penny lower than the previous closing. The market was very quiet in the absence of discouraging foreign cables.

The London Stock exchange showed less activity with irregular tendency. Gilt-edged securities were in better request three-and-a-half per cent quoted at £86-1|2 unchanged from previous closing.

London Exchanges opened with sterling-dollar at 4.90 and immediately went up to 4.90-1|2 thereafter the rate moved rather narrowly, but later in the session rose to 4.91-1|8.

Franc opened 80.81, but soon jumped to 81.21. However, the rate then showed a tendency to ease touching 80.37.

Local silver opened steady at 56|13, 56|14, 57. The market advanced on the strength of Shanghai, but later prices reacted partially in the absence of demand. However subsequently, the rates again rose on better London silver advice.

Gold opened steady at 32|14, 32|14|3, 32|15. Prices weakened in the absence of buyers and banks selling coupled with poor London gold cables, while weakness in sterling-Paris exchange caused further easiness. However subsequent improvement in the Paris rate brought prices up and in finally closed steady at 32|14|3; 32|14|3 and 32|14|9.

INDO-JAPANESE AGREEMENT

Will Not Be Signed In India, But Will Be Forwarded To London

NEW DELHI. Nov. 7.

The Japanese Delegates are awaiting confirmation from Tokio of yesterday's scheme, and if it is received to-day, there will be a meeting of Official Delegations to-morrow.

The Commercial Treaty will not however be signed in India, but in London.

What will be signed in India will be a Gentleman's Agreement which will be forwarded to London for the purpose of being incorporated in the Commercial Treaty If Tokio confirms yesterday's scheme, the question to be determined will be the life of the treaty.

Japan is expected to put forward a proposal in this respect, and India would respect Japan's wishes.

The official draftsman who was busy for three weeks with the Reserve Bank Committee Bill is being warned that he may be required to assist at the shortest possible notice to draw up a tariff bill giving effect to the Indo-Japanese Agreement.

JAPAN AND OTTAWA.

The Japanese Delegates expect that after settling the Indian question, they would meet the British Delegates in London to discuss the matter affecting Japanese trade interests in the United Kingdom and territories under the fiscal control of Britain.

The Japanese feel strongly that the Ottawa Agreement is being used to hit Japanese trade in the Empire and that Japan would like to know where she stands in relation to British Tariff policy, so that if she fails to arrive at a trade settlement with Britain, she may divert her trade to countries outside the British Empire and compete in those markets with British trade. Therefore, as soon as Delhi talks conclude, London will take up the thread and the Japanese already in London are accordingly fully kept in touch with the situation in India.

ANGLO-JAPANESE NEGOTIATIONS

Will Not Begin Till Delhi Mission Is Over

MANCHESTER, Nov. 7.

An important two days' conversations between the Japanese Lancashire textile representatives concluded here to-day.

It is stated officially that both sides exchanged views and expressed the conviction that the welfare of both countries depended on a satisfactory settlement on the basis of co-operation between industries themselves.

The statement emphasises that actual negotiations in Britain will not begin, until the Tripartite Indo-Japanese-Lancashire discussions which commenced in India in October reach a definite stage.—Reuter.

JAPANESE DUMPING

LONDON, Nov. 7.

In the House of Commons at the question time, Mr. Walker Runciman recapitulated the Indo-Japanese textile negotiations and said, on the return of British Delegates this week, negotiations would begin with the Japanese interests.

Negotiations would proceed as rapidly as possible. He hoped that he would in due course deal with the question of Japanese dumping in Britain and Colonies.—Reuter.

TREATMENT OF UNDERTRIALS

Madras Councillor Pleads For Leniency In Their Treatment

MADRAS, Nov. 7.

In the Madras Council to-day Mr. Basheer Ahmad enquired whether ten under-trials in the Madras Conspiracy case had been ill recently and if so, what the nature of their illness was.

The Law Member promised to call for information.

Another member asked whether these prisoners were ill-treated in the past two or three days.

The Law Member wanted notice.

Mr. Basheer Ahmed requested the Law Member pending the receipt of information to issue instructions to the Penitentiary Superintendent to be more lenient in regard to treatment of undertrials.

The Law Member replied that he had no reason to believe that the Superintendent was not lenient.—A. P.

WERE THEY BEATEN IN JAIL?

MADRAS, Nov. 7.

When the trial of the Conspiracy case was resumed to-day before the special Magistrate at the request of defence the court permitted a private doctor to examine the two accused who complained that they were beaten in the jail yesterday.—A. P.

(Special Cable)

LONDON, Nov. 7.

The Stock Exchange business continued small, but following the Chancellor's debt statement in the House of Commons the General tone at the close was rather brighter giltedged securities especially improved, and Indian Loans strengthened, following the announcement of the terms of the new three and half percent issue.

His Excellency the Governor of Bombay accompanied by Lady Sykes arrived at Government House, Bombay on Tuesday.

Select Committee Discusses Imperial Bank Amendment Bill

NEW DELHI, Nov. 7.

The Reserve Bank Select Committee spent another day in reviewing the provisions of the Imperial Bank Amendment Bill.

Sir Annamalai Chettiar joined the Committee to-day.

The discussion centered round the point whether the bank could advance loans on security of lands or other immoveable property.

Mr. Lamond supported by Sir George Schuster is said to have opposed this suggestion on the ground that it was against banking principles. On the other hand some members are understood to have pointed out that it was already in practice though not openly done or wellknown.

AMENDMENT

Despite opposition from official section the Committee carried the proposition by a majority permitting the bank to advance loans on lands or other immoveable property.

The Finance Member is said to have warned the Committee of the Government's intention to move an amendment in the Assembly against the proposal.—A. P.

(Special Cable)

LONDON, Nov. 7.

The British token payment will be in the United States currency and be roughly a million-and-half sterling. The token payment of last June was in silver.

The White Paper issued containing the corrsepondence exchanged between the British Ambassador and the United States Secretary of State at Washington yesterday shows that the President is no longer able to accept payment in silver at 50 cents per ounce.

WAR DEBT FORMULA

Token Due In December Likely To Raise Speculation

(Special Cable)

WASHINGTON, Nov 7

The War debt communique will be issued simultaneously in London and Washington to-day:—

It is expected to mention a small token for December 15. But the formula is arousing speculation since the silver offer expires on November 12 and because Morgenthau attended Roosevelt-Hull Conference at the White House at which they examined the proposed statement which the British Cabinet, it is believed approved yesterday. Mr. Acheson held a last Conference with Sir Leith Ross who is scheduled to leave for New York to-night and to sail on November 8.

WHAT U. S. THINKS

In the House of Commons, Mr. Chamberlain announced that the British Government has offered America 7½ million dollars as token payment for the instalment due on 15th December. Roosevelt who accepted the offer does not regard Britain in default.—Reuter.

Audience Divided Into Two Camps Indulge in Skirmish. Police Arresting A Few

CALCUTTA, Nov. 7.

A disturbance took place at the Corinthian Theatre on Sunday night, when an Urdu play called "Garib-ki-Larki," based on the Harijan movement was in progress. When the scene depicting a depressed class girl going to draw water from a village well and being assaulted and driven away by caste Hindus was being enacted, a section of the audence took exception to this and attempted to rush to the stage and stop the play.

Another section, which approved of the theme, opposed this and a free fight ensued, resulting in injuries to several persons. The police arrived on the scene and ejected those out who were disturbing and took into custody some of them.

It is reported that previously also exception was taken to the play, and consequently the original title of "Achhut-ki-Larki" was changed into the present one.—A.P.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Feeling Great

If you wake up in the morning feeling sour and depressed, entirely lacking in vim and vigour, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil or harsh purgatives and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

They can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The real reason for your run down feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Your stomach is filled with gas. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "tip top". They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts especially effective when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Always look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the Red Package Label.

Drop In American Cotton Prices

PRE-BUREAU LONG LIQUIDATION

Mill Activity Lower In U. S. A.

BUYERS AWAIT CLEARER FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

Bombay, Nov. 7.

On Monday American cotton prices on the New York Cotton Exchange recorded a decline of one dollar per bale. The market was easier in the absence of any important buying and also by liquidation and unfavourable spot demand.

BUREAU EXPECTATIONS.

The Bureau report is expected to be bearish and the average estimate of the members of the New York Cotton Exchange is 13,254,000 bales. Thus a figure of this size is discounted. However in view of currency uncertainties there is utter absence of speculative enterprise. President Roosevelt is fighting against nature and intends to raise commodity prices by various measures. In the beginning there was a general response but when the N. I. R. A. was introduced, most of the professional businessmen and operators adopted waiting attitude. Introduction of new measures day after day has created a confusion and there is less disposition to operate at present.

POOR TRADE.

The trade recovery which was witnessed during the early period of inflation is now showing steady fall. Sales of cloth are reported below production. In some cases prices have declined and margin of profit is narrowing. Stocks of unsold piecegoods are increasing and manufactures show unwillingness to pay the processing Tax of 4.2 cents on goods which are now under stocks.

IRREGULAR FLUCTUATIONS.

The financial policy as adopted at present by Washington administration is severely criticised and operators await for a clearer policy. In the meantime cotton prices are likely to fluctuate irregularly without any definite price tendency.

NEW YORK MARKET.

The New York cotton futures market opened at a decline of 8 points. There was scattered buying and selling which improved prices by one point from the opening level and reached the highest level of the day. Later there was persistent liquidation by nervous bulls which steadily declined prices. The offerings were taken up by trade interests scale down. The market closed at about the lowest level of the day at a net decline of 22 to 20 points. Spot cotton prices declined 20 points at 9.55c.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

The New Orleans cotton futures market ruled easy on increased selling and closed at a decline of 18 to 20 points. Spot cotton prices declined 17 points at 9.28c.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

The Liverpool cotton futures market opened at about the highest level of the day at a decline of 4 points. Currency uncertainties check enterprise. The market was under pressure of long liquidation. There was marked absence of any buying and prices after declining 13 points under last closing rallied two points on local covering. The market closed at a net decline of 10 to 11 points. Middling American spot cotton prices were reduced 7 points at 5.34d. per lb.

EGYPTIAN COTTON.

East Indian cotton futures closed at a decline of 6 points. Large estimates of the Egyptian cotton crop induced liquidation and sakels as well as Uppers closed at a decline of 12 to 13 points.

ALEXANDRIA MARKET.

The Alexandria cotton futures market ruled easy on increased selling pressure and closed at a decline of 16 to 28 points.

PREFER PURCHASES.

Messrs. Thos. Smith & Co. state:—

Uncertainty over the Bureau and the dollar movement, together with the threatened strike by farmers in consequence of President Roosvelt's refusal to fix farm produce prices caused heavy long liquidation.

Private crop estimates indicate Bureau around 13,400,000 Bales and ginnings around 10 million Bales; the trade appears to have discounted these figures and with small speculative holdings the market seems technically healthy. Although war-debt negotiations A. currency programme is still an are unsatisfactory and the U. S. enigma, we believe present prices are very reasonable and will undoubtedly cause more farmers to take advantage of the Government loans thereby ultimately assuring a substantial reduction in next season's acreage.

Apart from the fact that the peak of the crop movement is now passed. President Roosevelt will soon have to devise means to maintain his economic measures in order to enable him to show satisfactory progress at the next session of Congress.

We consider purchases of March New York around present prices will later on prove remunerative.

PRIVATE CABLE

N.Y. January opened 9.55—08; highest 9.56—07 (10-18 a.m.); lowest 9.41—22 (2-57 p.m.) close 9.41—22.

Liverpool January highest 5.17—04 (opening); lowest 5.08 13 (3-45 p.m.)

Messrs. Drennan and Co. have received the following cables:—

Messrs. E. J. Schwabach & Co., New York:—

Cotton.—Long liquidation before the Bureau. Southern selling only small. Think it possible that large crop estimates fully discounted. We would adopt a trading position with a preference for purchases on all good setbacks.

Messrs. Reiss Brothers, Liverpool:—

Although Bureau expected bearish more inflation appears invitable prefer purchases.

Messrs. Chunilal Mehta and Co. have received to-day the following cable information from their Foreign Friends.

Liverpool.—Market developed weakness on disappointing American cables. Debt negotiations are not proceeding favourably. Egyptian cotton larger crop estimates are circulating. Our opinion is that present prices discount the "bearish" features of the situation.

Liverpool.—Hedge and straddle selling. General liquidation pending Bureau.

New York—Hedging and pre-Bureau liquidation. Demand limited and on scale. All markets easy except Silver.

Messrs. Patel Brothers have received the following cables:—

N.Y. Cotton Exchange Service cabled:—

[illegible] sales lighter probably below production, goods prices easier margins narrower, mill activity slightly lower due to light sales and unwillingness of manufacturers to pay processing tax on goods for stock. Buyers await clearer financial outlook. Estimate September would consumption all kinds 20,099,000 bales. bales.

Their Liverpool Agents cabled as under:—

12-11 p.m. Liverpool Market: Scattered selling, lack of offtake.

8-52 p.m. N.Y. Market: Pre-Bureau liquidation, trade absorbed scale-down buying.

American Cotton Crop Service estimate 13,238,000.

Members of N.Y. Cotton Exchange estimate 13,254,000.

Messrs. Langley and Co. have received the following cable from their Liverpool agents:—

American criticism presidents plans increasing. Farmers more restive. Price fixing reported unlikely. Financing public works probably be facilitated. Holding increasing.

On The Eve Of Issue Of New Sterling Loan

SPECULATIVE ACTIVITY IN SECURITIES

Bombay, Nov. 7.

As mentioned yesterday, there are now definite advices from London that a new Sterling loan will be issued by the Government of India to redeem the outstanding Bonds of 1933-34 for £9,965,000 bearing 6 per cent.

Terms of the new issue are not available, but it is likely that the same will be issued for a period of 15 years, at 3½ per cent at £97½.

This new loan was anticipated by dealers in the local securities market. The recent activity in securities was mainly due to this anticipation. Recently there was heavy short covering with some speculative buying. 3½ per cent. loan again advanced future to-day to Rs. 84-1/6. At this level there was some long liquidation which depressed prices to Rs. 83/12.

The technical position of the market is weak, as much of the recent buying is purely speculative and in the absence of any short interest, it will be difficult to find buyers in a declining market. It is risky to follow the advance.

In shares there was some scattered selling but on the whole business was restricted. Tata Steel second preference shares declined to-day to Rs. 99/8 but later on rallied to Rs. 100.

The local bullion market ruled quiet but steady to-day. Prices of gold and silver fluctuated within a narrow range. Silver prices recorded a sharp rise in New York but owing decline in dollar there was no effect on prices in the local market. Shanghai advices were steady with a small improvement of 1/16 in Shanghai Exchange. Gold market was featureless in sympathy with weakness in London quotations. The undertone of the market was quiet.

BOMBAY COTTON

Bombay, Nov. 7.

In sympathy with a decline of 22 points in New York futures, the local cotton market opened at Rs. 184 for Broach A./M. delivery and advanced to Rs. 185/8 on Japanese buying. It is now believed that boycott of our cotton by Japan will be removed owing to satisfactory progress of discussions with Japanese delegation. It is said that some agreement is now arrived at and will be released shortly.

In the local cotton market purchases of forward contracts by Japanese firms are estimated over a lakh of bales. These forward purchases will be liquidated against purchases of actual cotton. Thus the forward purchases will have depressing effect particularly when stocks of new crop will be increasing and when the general sentiment becomes bearish the liquidation will have more depressing effect.

Later there was scattered liquidation which resulted in a decline of about rupee one from the high level. Liverpool market was due to open at a decline of 5 points but opened steady unchanged. Our market ruled steady and closed at 5-30 p.m. as under:—

SOVIET WARNS JAPAN

Red Army Prepared For Defensive Measures

Events In Manchuria Will Be Reckoned With At Proper Time

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.

While striving for peace the Soviet would be compelled to take defensive measures, declared M. Molotov, President of the Council of Commissars addressing an important conference of the Moscow Soviet in connection with the sixteenth anniversary of the Revolution.

Soviet policy in the Far East was directed by peaceful relations with neighbours, but they must reckon with events in Manchuria, and the fact that the agreements concluded with the Soviet had been violated.

M. Molotov referred to the "ridiculous plans of some Japanese statesmen with reference to the seizure of Siberia and the near coast region."

He added that the Soviet had strengthened the Red Army, and in case of attack would do everything to ensure that the Red Army obtained complete victory with full destruction of its adversary.—Reuter.

The second resolution, which was also passed, gave a wholehearted support to the newly started Bombay Provincial Working Class Party "in its attempt to mobilise the masses on the basis of a clear cut programme of national emancipation and appeals to the workers and other exploited classes to join it in large numbers."

OFFENSIVE WAGE-CUT.

There was a keen contest between Dr. Homi F. Pavri and Mr. P. Baloo in the bye-election for a seat in the "D" Ward which took place on Tuesday.
